Thespians present "Everybody Loves Opal"

For the fall play, the Thespians produced "Everybody Loves Opal." Opal was a kindly junk person who sang and collected tea bags. Her "friends" discovered that she had money and set out to get it by killing Opal. The results were often humorous, which made the fall play a success.

and "Don't Drink the Water"

The spring play, entitled "Don't Drink the Water," was performed on the weekend of April 23 and 24. It was about three American tourists from New Jersey vacationing in Europe. While in Europe, they were caught taking pictures of secret missiles. The tourists were forced to hide in the American Embassy because the cops thought they were spies. While hiding in the embassy, they met a priest who was also hiding there because the officials wouldn't let him out of the country. They tried many funny ways to escape, but they just couldn't make it. Who knows, they may still be there!

On the night of October 25, the Sunshine Society held its annual Sunshine Dance.

The girls worked very hard on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday preparing for the Dance, which was entitled Oriental Paradise. The Multi-Purpose room was decorated in a way that made you feel as if you were right in the middle of China, even to little Chinese girls running around serving the refreshments.

All of these things made this night a night which all those attending will remember.

Servers: Daphne Rayburn, Rene Strawn, Rita Bradshaw, Anita Ault, and Carla Tilley.

Dream on . . . Dream on . . .

Penny reigns as queen of the Prom, attended by her court.

After a week of very hard work by the juniors, May 14 was the big night. Everyone shed his cherished blue jeans and put on his best.

Miss Penny Parker reigned over the evening. She was escorted by Mr. Mark Schwartzkopf. Senior members of the court were Nancy Blankenship and Robin Peter. Junior representatives Dawn DeFord and Sheryl Bogan completed the court.

The post-prom was a "Casino Night" held at the elementary multi-purpose room. There were fun and games for all.

Congratulations to the juniors for such a fine prom!

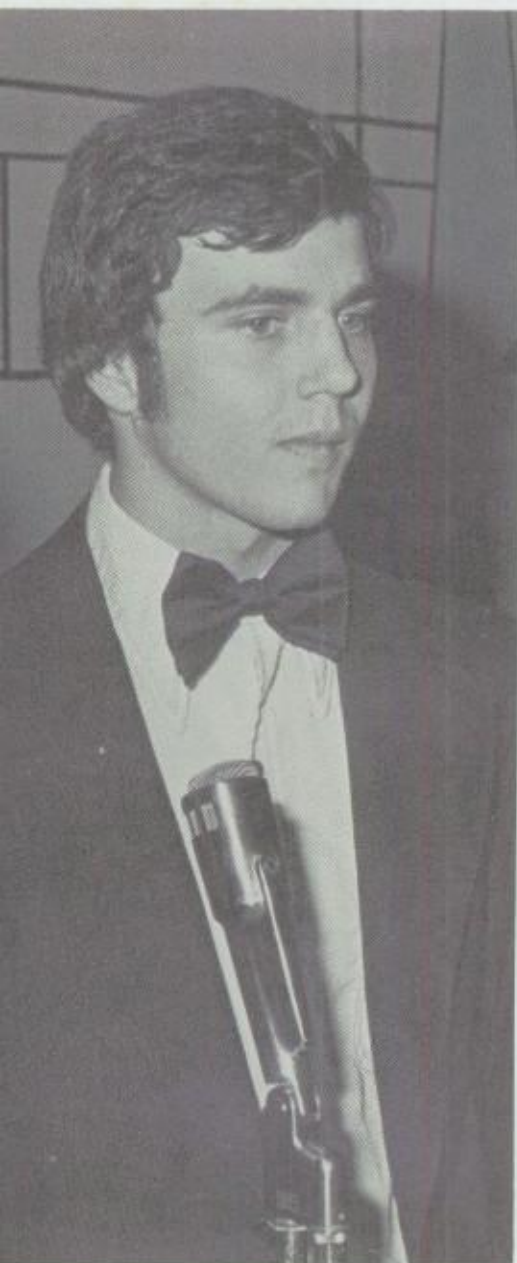

Band Varieties presents

"The USO Show" was one of the best illustrations of talent by the band. After a spectacular opening to the strains of "Panorama USA," Sam Habegger and Art Webb, emcees, presented the entertainment. The acts were varied and lively. Julie Watson, Mollie Kramer, Becky Smith and Vicki Patchett provided some of the evening's dancing. Singers Brenda Kelly, Lee Dunn,

the USO show

Donna Matthews, and Linda Price sang songs that were near to the hearts of many soldiers. The Flying Fernandos, a new acrobatic troop, made their first and possibly last performance. Straight from the golf course came Bob Hope, to see that everything was under control. To end the show, the complete cast plus Uncle Sam (Lyle Beard) joined the band for a rousing chorus of "This is My Country."

At 5:00 a.m. on May 3rd, ninety sleepy CCHS students along with Mrs. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Wyrick, Mr. Emery, Mr. Evans, Mr. Brinson, and Mr. Shunk met at the school to leave for the Purdue Airport. After a four hour delay in the plane schedule, the students finally boarded a United 737 plane at 10:00 a.m. Upon arrival at the Washington National Airport, the students were hurried onto the busses to begin the tiring, but interesting tour of Washington D.C.

After arriving at the Capitol Building, everyone sat in on a session of the House of Representatives. When a short tour of the building was completed, students met with Indiana Congressman, John Meyers, on the front steps. From the Capitol Building, students toured the Supreme Court Building, Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery where they watched the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and also visited the grave of John F. Kennedy. After leaving Arlington Cemetery, they were given a tour of Alexandria, Virginia, the town where George Washington spent his childhood; then they enjoyed a hurried meal.

After again loading the buses, the students toured the Smithsonian Institutue, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, and saw the Washington Monument. At the end of a long and very intersting day, CC students and teachers boarded the plane for a return flight to Purdue, then back on the busses to good ole CCHS.

Mini-Courses provide two days of fun

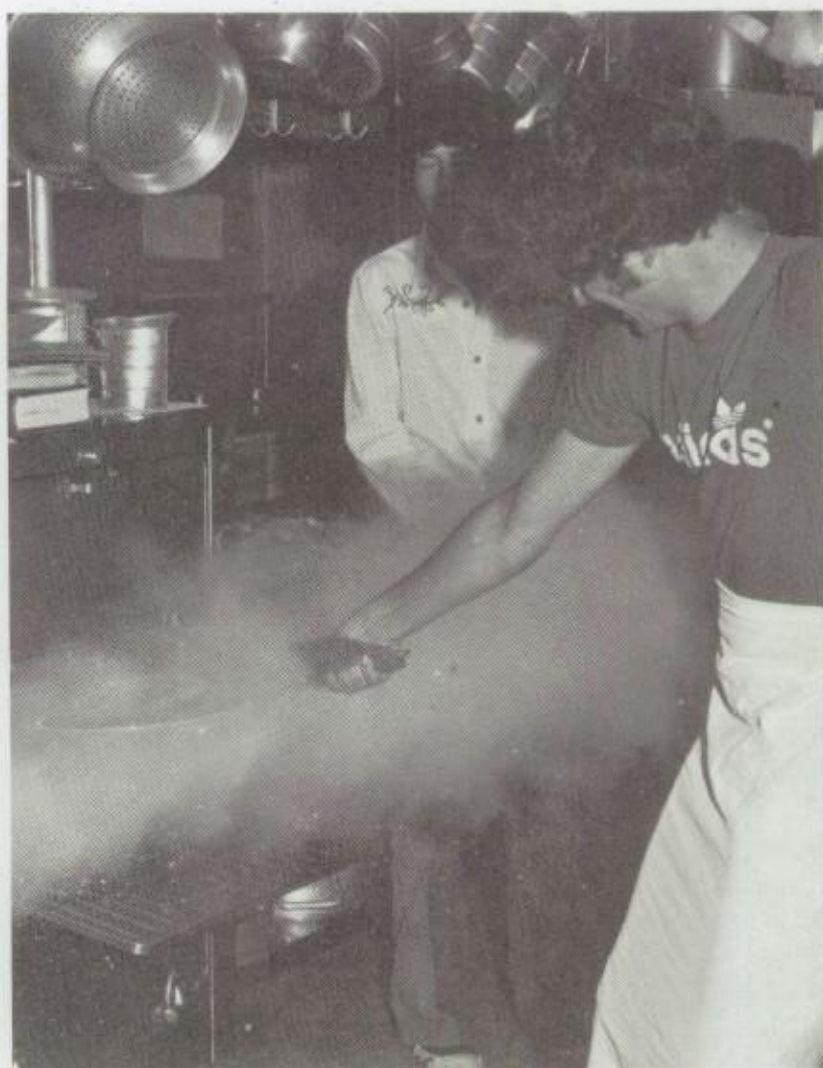

Mr. Walters initiates an interested group into the mysteries of macrame.

On April 29 and 30, Mini-Courses were again held at Clinton Central High School. These courses give students an opportunity to learn new skills or get information that is not presented in the regular curriculum.

Several courses were offered for both full and half days. Among the new courses this year were: Amish Field Trip, boating, belly dancing, Bible study, dog obedience, Elwood Glass Factory Tour, and a hospital tour.

Clinton Central loses leader and friend

RICHARD W. FALLS
PRINCIPAL AND SUPERINTENDENT
CLINTON CENTRAL SCHOOL
CORPORATION
1959—1976

We believe that the advice Mr. Falls gave to a former senior class encompasses his feelings for all students:

"Now you are to set forth on a way of life, a career, more training, work, responsibilities, and the right to vote for your country's future.

"Does this load sound heavy to bear? You have lots of help; a loving God, parents and relatives who care, and many friends. Do not forget your friends at CCHS. We are ever ready to help and we are proud of you.

"As I say good-bye and good luck, I ask you to reach into the future and to challenge yourself. Learn to laugh but never forget how to weep. Be serious but do not take yourself too seriously. Remember the simplicity of true greatness and try to keep an open mind.

"If you succeed, I have not lived in vain!"

The 1976 Ex Libris staff is proud to dedicate this book to the memory of Richard W. Falls, who devoted almost twenty years of his life to the education of the young people of this community.

After a successful career as a teacher and coach, Mr. Falls came to Forest High School as principal in 1957. When the Clinton Central consolidation was organized, he became the first principal of Clinton Central High School.

In 1963, Mr. Falls was selected to be superintendent of the Clinton Central School Corporation. Under his direction, Clinton Central High School was admitted into the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, and one of the most progressive elementary schools in the state was built.

Students, faculty and patrons of Clinton Central respected Mr. Falls for his genuine interest in the welfare of all the students. He could be a stern disciplinarian when necessary, but he could also play Santa Claus to a kindergarten class or teach high school students how to fish. He will be missed as a teacher, an administrator, and a friend.

Band moves on to

After working very hard on football shows, the Clinton Central band was invited to march in the Indiana State University Homecoming Parade. This particular parade has the reputation of being the second largest in the state. The band also marched in the Frankfort Christmas Parade and Veteran's Day Parade.

In celebration of the Bicentennial, our big American flag was used as a new feature of the pre-game football and basketball games.

We participated in the Instrumental Solo and Ensemble Contest and presented our Band Varieties and an annual Spring Concert.

Seniors come to

ENTHUSIASM MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

Fellow Seniors, here it is graduation day. The day we have all been waiting for, for the last 12 years. We have our caps and gowns on and we are sitting here patiently in our chairs waiting for our diplomas. First of all I would like to say something about the people responsible for us seniors being here, our parents. I know we don't always agree with them or want to take their advice, but they are older and have experienced more of life, and someday I'm sure we will understand these differences of opinion. Without the sacrifices of our parents we would not have had the opportunities we've had. We should thank our parents for what they have given us and hope they are proud of us up to this point. Because more or less their job is finished. We still need them, especially for monetary backing and much needed advice from time to time, but as far as growing up they have helped us in that respect all they can.

We are young adults now trying to do our own thing and be our own person.

Some of us will go to college, others will start working right away, but we all will be away from home more than ever before. Just because we are away or maybe too busy we should never forget our parents and what they have done for us.

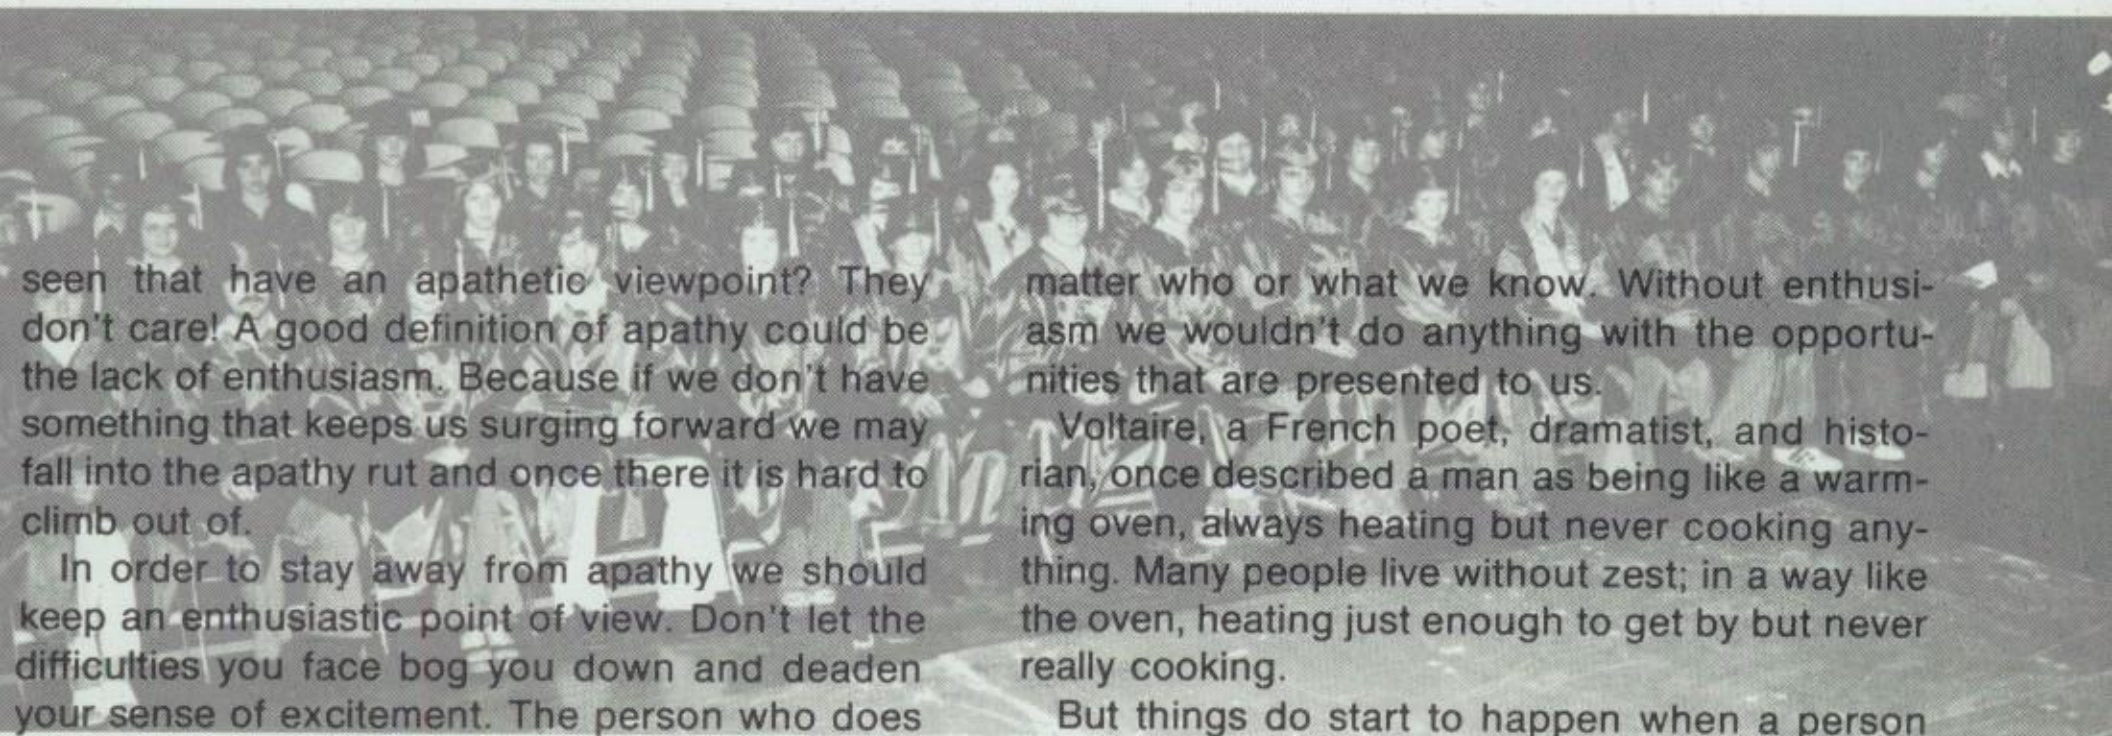

But what do we do now? Where do we start? I'm not going to bore you by going into detail about the much over-used phrase, "Today is the first day of the rest of your life." We all know that. We all have different plans after high school so I can't give a sure-fire way to success except that if we have a driving force inside us that keeps us going no matter what the odds we will find success in whatever direction we decide to go.

This motivating force could be lots of things: pride, desire, money, determination, dedication, but I think that enthusiasm is the power inside us that keeps us going. How many people have we seen that have an apathetic viewpoint? They don't care! A good definition of apathy could be the lack of enthusiasm. Because if we don't have something that keeps us surging forward we may fall into the apathy rut and once there it is hard to climb out of.

In order to stay away from apathy we should keep an enthusiastic point of view. Don't let the difficulties you face bog you down and deaden your sense of excitement. The person who does the most with his life is the one who approaches human existence, its opportunities and its problems with a confident attitude and an enthusiastic point of view.

Today we hear that it's not what we know but who we know. I would like to change this a little and say it's not what or who we know but the amount of enthusiasm we have that counts. Because if we don't have the desire and enthusiasm to push forward and better ourselves it doesn't matter who or what we know. Without enthusiasm we wouldn't do anything with the opportunities that are presented to us.

Voltaire, a French poet, dramatist, and historian, once described a man as being like a warming oven, always heating but never cooking anything. Many people live without zest; in a way like the oven, heating just enough to get by but never really cooking.

But things do start to happen when a person really catches fire and passes the warming stage to the cooking process. As seniors it's about time to stop warming and become fired up by a new and vital enthusiasm. The mental and spiritual heat created by enthusiasm can burn off the apathy and release a powerhouse of qualities and talents.

Class of '78

The class of '78 became the first class in the history of Clinton Central High School to choose class jackets instead of the traditional class sweaters. The jackets were black and white and had "Bulldogs" written across the back.

The Sophomores also read many interesting books, such as Huckleberry Finn, The Outsiders, and Lost Horizon.

Eighth Graders take the final steps

In addition to being able to participate in all of the Junior High sports and activities, the Eighth Grade had an opportunity this year to publish their own newspaper. The Green and White Gazette contained news, jokes, puzzles and original compositions by Eighth Grade English students. Some of the classes also took field trips to various places of interest.

We've served as your family banking center for 100 years.

Proud of the past...
Prepared for the future.

Our great nation was celebrating its 100th birthday, the forests of Clinton County were rapidly giving away to the plow, industry was beginning to appear and the railroads were favoring Frankfort as a rail hub.

It was a bustling, growing time. The need of a bank, dedicated to the financial progress of the area, was needed.

On June 17, 1876, The Farmers Bank was founded.

Each year has recorded a constant growth in the number of customers served by The Farmers Bank. Why? Because Clinton County area families and businesses recognize The Farmers Bank as a banking center dedicated to serving the community area. It was this way in 1876. It is this way in 1976. It will be this way in 2076.

As the 1976 school year comes to a close, many things run through the minds of the students at CCHS. Some look back to those good times during the year such as dumping your canoe during mini-courses, waiting for 3½ hours in the Purdue Airport to board the plane for Washington D.C. and then finally getting to fly, maybe for the first time. And then as school really comes to an end, the Junior-Senior Prom and finally graduation. Many also look toward the future. For the seniors it might be college or finding a job, and for the underclassmen it is working on to their final years of high school.

I would like to leave one last thought to fellow classmates and to the underclassmen:

No greater wealth can one man have than peace with God and friends with man.
